Benefits of a Lutheran School

Biblical Worldview

Everything is taught in view of the truth of the Bible, which is God's Word (2 Timothy 3:16).

Purpose

The purpose or goal of Lutheran education is to create and strengthen faith in Jesus as Savior, to make disciples by teaching everything Jesus commanded (Matthew 28:19-20).

Partnership with Home & Church

Parents, especially fathers, have primary responsibility to train their children in the training and instruction of the Lord (Ephesians 6:4). God instituted the public ministry of the Church to help parents train their children (Ephesians 4:11). Lutheran schools are an extension of the church to partner with parents in the spiritual training of the children.

Lutheran Teachers

Teachers in Lutheran schools share our Christian faith and confession. They believe, teach and live what we want our children to believe, teach and live (Ephesians 4:11ff). They are role models for us and for our children. They care about the soul as much as, if not more, than the body. They will spend eternity with us.

Discipline with God's Word

We use God's word not for behavior modification but for spiritual transformation (2 Timothy 3:16).

Lutheran Friends

Lutheran schools create an excellent environment to establish relationships and friendships with fellow Lutherans. Those friendships will last for eternity. And, while in this world, Lutheran friends can serve as a great resource in reinforcing God's word to our lives (Proverbs 18:24).

Worship & Devotional Life

Part of the Christian life includes regular group worship and private devotion (Psalm 1). This worship and devotion life is built into the Lutheran school with study of God's word, devotions, prayer and singing in church.
